Prepared by:-Internship students of various law university and colleges.
The State Government of Rajasthan issued a Notification on January 18, 1999 for the constitution of the State Commission having one full time Chairperson and 4 Members in accordance with the provisions of The Protection of Human Rights Act, 1993. The Commission was fully constituted by appointment of the Chairperson along with the Members and became functional from March 2000. The main mandate of the State Commission is to function as a watch dog for human rights in the State. Under the 1993 Act, human rights are defined in Section 2 (d) and are those justiciable rights which can be enforced in a court of law in India.

The Rajasthan State Human Rights Commission is reconstituted on 6th July 2005. One of the leading State Commissions in the country. In a short span of about four years it has achieved many milestones in its mission for the protection and promotion of Human Rights.
ISSUES IN HUMAN RIGHTS

- RIGHTS PERSPECTIVE FOR GOOD GOVERNANCE
- CORRUPTION AS VIOLATOR OF HUMAN RIGHTS
- RIGHTS PERSPECTIVE AS CENTER STAGE TO DEVELOPMENT AGENDA
The Commission shall perform all or any of the following functions, namely:-

(a) inquire, suo motu or on a petition presented to it by a victim or any person on his behalf (or on a direction or order of any Court), into complaint of

- (i) violation of human rights or abetment thereof; or
- (ii) negligence in the prevention of such violation, by a public servant;

(b) intervene in any proceeding involving any allegation of violation of human rights pending before a court with the approval of such court.
(c) to visit, notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, any jail or other institution under the control of the State Government, where persons are detained or lodged for purposes of treatment, reformation or protection, for the study of the living conditions of the inmates thereof and make recommendations thereon to the Government;

(d) review the safeguards provided by or under the Constitution or any law for the time being in force for the protection of human rights and recommend measures for their effective implementation;

(e) review the factors, including acts of terrorism that inhibit the enjoyment of human rights and recommend appropriate remedial
NEED FOR HUMAN RIGHT COMMISSION

Human trafficking is a form of modern-day slavery.

Victims of trafficking exploited for commercial sex or labor purposes.

Traffickers use force, fraud or coercion to achieve exploitation.

Sexual, Labour, forced Marriage, Organ Transplant, Camel Jockey

United Nations Convention on Transnational Organized Crime, Protocol on Trafficking:
“...the purchasing, transfer, harbouring or receiving of persons by threatening, use of force, fraud, abuse of power or position for the purpose of exploitation...”
Human Trafficking: What Is It?

Sex Trafficking: Commercial sex act induced by force, fraud or coercion, or in which person performing the act is under age 18.

- Victims can be found working in massage parlors, brothels, strip clubs, escort services

Labor Trafficking: Using force, fraud or coercion to recruit, harbor, transport, obtain or employ a person for labor or services in involuntary servitude, peonage, debt bondage or slavery

- Victims can be found in domestic situations as nannies or maids, sweatshop factories, janitorial jobs, construction sites, farm work, restaurants, panhandling

Crime of trafficking occurs with the exploitation of the victim. The physical movement of the victim is not a requisite.
Who Are Victims of Human Trafficking?

- Approximately 800,000 to 900,000 victims annually trafficked across international borders worldwide; between 18,000 and 20,000 victims trafficked out of India annually.
- More than half of victims trafficked out of India are children; victims are probably more women than men.
- Victims can be trafficked out of India to anywhere in the world. Victims have been sent to among other places, Africa, Asia, India, Latin America, Eastern Europe, Russia and Canada.
- Many victims do not speak English and are unable to communicate with service providers, police, or others who might be able to help them.
- Within India both citizens and non-citizens fall prey to traffickers.
HELP ABOLISH
HUMAN SLAVERY
Mindset of Trafficking Victims

Frequently Victims:

- Do not speak English and are unfamiliar with Indian culture.
- Distrust outsiders, especially law enforcement – fear of deportation.
- Do not self-identify as victims; often blame themselves for predicaments.
- Although many victims have been beaten and/or raped, current situation may still be better than where they came from.
- May be unaware of rights or may have been intentionally misinformed about rights in this country.
- Fear for safety of families in their home countries, who are often threatened by traffickers
How Are Victims Trafficked?

Force, fraud and coercion are methods used by traffickers to press victims into lives of servitude, abuse

- Force: Rape, beatings, confinement,
- Fraud: Includes false and deceptive offers of employment, marriage, better life.
- Coercion: Threats of serious harm to, or physical restraint of, any person; any scheme, plan or pattern intended to cause victims to believe that failure to perform an act would result in restraint against them; or the abuse or threatened abuse of the legal process.
Myths Associated with Human Trafficking

Myth #1:
All Emigrants Smuggled Outside India go Willingly

•Victims of human trafficking are coerced or fraudulently induced into trafficking while smuggling cases include those who freely and knowingly consent.

•Victims of human trafficking are continuously exploited for labor or commercial sex, while the act of smuggling ends when the migrants arrive at the intended destination.

•Movement from place to place is not a requisite to the crime of trafficking. For example, victims can be trafficked even if they are not transported from country to country. In contrast, human smuggling involves the illegal transport of persons across international borders.
Myths Associated with Human Trafficking

Myth #2: All Participants Involved in Human Trafficking Are Criminals

- Often times, persons identified/encountered in criminal investigations are assumed to be criminals (willing participants of the crime), not victims.

- Victims are often arrested under the assumption they are criminals or illegal immigrants willingly smuggled into the United States.

- As I mentioned earlier, it’s important as law enforcement officers that you look beneath the surface of those you encounter or arrest. Doing so might reveal you’re actually dealing with victims of human trafficking.

Identifying Crime of Human Trafficking

Immediate concerns for law enforcement:

- Identify when crimes of trafficking taking place.
- Identify and distinguish between victims and perpetrators.
- Stop crimes of trafficking in progress.
- Manage victims of trafficking as witnesses.
- Secure evidence of trafficking for prosecutions and trials
Some Relevant Cases

- Vishal Jeet v. Union of India (1990)
  - Asked Govt. to set up advisory committee to eradicate child prostitution.
  - To evolve schemes to ensure proper care and protection to victim girls and children.

  - No Magistrate can exercise jurisdiction over any person under 18.
  - The Magistrate must transfer the case to the Juvenile Justice Board if the person is a juvenile in conflict with the law, or to the Child Welfare Committee if he is a child in need of care and protection.

Facts and Figures on International Migration

No country of the world remains unaffected by international migration flows. They are all either countries of origin, transit or destination for migrants, or all three simultaneously. Like other flows, whether financial, commercial, or flows of information or ideas, the rising tide of people crossing frontiers is among the most reliable indicators of the intensity of globalization.

International migrants

At the start of the 21st century, one out of every 35 persons worldwide is an international migrant. The total number of international migrants is estimated at some 175 million persons (2.9% of the world population). Some 48% of all international migrants are women. Over the last 35 years, the number of international migrants has more than doubled.

Migrant stocks by world region

In total numbers, Europe (56.1 million), Asia (49.7 million) and North America (40.8 million) are the regions with the largest migrant stocks in 2000. The African migrant stock amounts to 16.2 million persons, representing 2.1% of the total population. The migrant stock in Latin America and the Caribbean totals 5.9 million people, representing 1.1% of the population. Oceania-Pacific topped the list of world regions with the largest proportion of migrants as compared to the total population (19.1%), followed by North America (13%), and Europe (7.7%).

Migrant stocks by country

The United States (35 million) and the Russian Federation (13.3 million) top the list of the 15 countries with the largest international migrant stocks in 2000. This list includes countries from all world regions: Germany (7.3 million), Ukraine (6.9 million), France (6.5 million), India (6.3 million), Canada (5.8 million), Saudi Arabia (5.3 million), Australia (4.7 million), Pakistan (4.2 million), United Kingdom (4.0 million), Kazakhstan (3.0 million), Côte d’Ivoire (2.3 million), Iran (2.3 million), Israel (2.3 million).

Immigration and emigration countries

While all of the 10 major immigration countries between 1970 and 1999 were to be found in the developing world, not all of the 10 major immigration countries were developed countries. Over this period, the leading net immigration countries were the United States (16.7 million immigrants), the Russian Federation (4.1 million), Saudi Arabia (3.4 million) and India (3.3 million). Mexico (6.0 million emigrants), Bangladesh (4.1 million), and Afghanistan (4.1 million) were the main emigration countries.

Victims of Trafficking and Their Needs

There are four general areas of victim needs:

- Immediate assistance
  - Housing, food, medical, safety and security, language interpretation and legal services

- Mental health assistance
  - Counseling

- Income assistance
  - Cash, living assistance

- Legal status
  - T visa, immigration, certification
Communicating with Victims of Human Trafficking

- Fear of deportation
  - The TVPA authorizes special visas and other forms of immigration relief to certain trafficking victims.
  - You are a victim, not a criminal. What is happening to you is wrong.
  - We can help get you what you need. We can protect you. You can trust us.
  - You have rights. You have the right to live without being abused.

- Does not Identify as Victim

- Distrust of law enforcement

- Unaware of rights
Identifying Victims of Trafficking

Key Questions for Victims of Trafficking:

- How did you get here?
- Where do you live, eat and sleep?
- Do you owe someone money?
- Is someone keeping your legal/travel documents?
- Were you threatened if you tried to leave?
- Has your family been threatened?
- Were you ever physically abused?
- Were you ever forced to stay in one place?
- Who are you afraid of?
